

Safety Protocols for the 2020 Emerald Coast Veterinary Conference

Safety Protocols to Limit Contact & Prevent the Spread of COVID-19:

- All attendees are required to wear masks/face coverings in meeting rooms and public areas (unless outside or eating).
- All meeting rooms will be set to ensure that there will be 6-feet social distancing, as well as a place where at risk people can self-isolate in the back of the room if it makes them feel more comfortable (as size of the room allows).
- All materials for the event (proceedings, program books, schedule of events, etc.) will be emailed to attendees prior to the event and no paper will be distributed at the meeting. (This does not include printed proceedings books purchased during registration).
- Registration will be contactless and cashless – any registrations at the event will need to be done through call-in or on the attendees personal device.
- It will be stated in the preregistration email that anyone who is exhibiting symptoms should not attend the convention and that everyone should take their temperature prior to coming to the convention (and if they are staying at the hotel, they should bring a thermometer with them) and will ask that anyone who is awaiting coronavirus test results not attend the event.
- Attendees will be monitored daily and any individuals exhibiting or experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 at any time while at the event will be isolated and leave the facility as soon as practicable.
- For contact tracing purposes, if you would like the ECVC staff to have your cell phone number, please sign in to <https://ecvc.memberclicks.net/> with the same credentials that you used to register to update your profile contact information.
- We are in the process of adding the following acknowledgement to our website and confirmation page that attendees get when they register:
